

The image features a woman standing on the wide, grey stone steps of a grand, classical-style building with a portico supported by white columns. She is wearing a traditional Pakistani ensemble: a long-sleeved, floor-length purple kurta with intricate gold embroidery on the neckline, cuffs, and hem, paired with a voluminous, multi-layered yellow shalwar kameez. A yellow dupatta is draped over her shoulders. She is also wearing gold jewelry, including a headband, earrings, and bangles. The background shows the building's facade with arched windows and a balcony. The overall scene is set during the day with soft lighting.
